

Aleksander Gubrynowicz

Aleksander Gubrynowicz (born 1974); Assistant professor at the Faculty of Law and Administration, University of Warsaw. He graduated from this Faculty (1998), submitted his Ph.D. thesis (2001), and obtained Dsc (habilitation) in 2016. He's an expert in international law (specialist in international environmental law and international investment law) and the history of legal thought. As an expert in international relations, he worked over many years in the Institute of Political Science. In 2003/2004, he served as the Deputy Chair of International Relations in Collegium Civitas. He authored many articles on the history and actual policy of Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia. He authored articles or chapters on demographic issues of Germany and retributive policy after as well in Hungary WWII. At the same time, he coordinated the Jean Monnet Project concerning the global economic law's fundamental challenges. Since 2001 onward, he works at the Faculty of Law and Administration at Warsaw University.